

Logic Assignment — Go to Google.com

Why am I going to Google.com?

Because I am looking for information

How do I find the information that I need?

- What information am I looking for?
  - I want to know how to make chocolate banana bread. I want to find a recipe for chocolate banana bread.
- How do I find recipes?
  - Cookbooks
  - Cooking websites
    - Since I don't own any cookbooks, it would be cheaper and faster to go to a cooking website.
  - How do I find a cooking website?
    - It would be fastest to find a cooking website through Google?
  - How do I perform a Google search?
    - Open a web browser by clicking on the web browser icon with your mouse.
    - In the search box on top of the page, type "Google.com".
    - At Google.com, type into the search box the thing you wish to search for. In our case, we will write "chocolate banana bread recipe" in the search box.
    - Press enter to get your search results
- What do I need to perform a Google search?
  - A computer
  - A mouse
  - Internet Access
  - A web browser
  - A request to type into Google